

NON-DISCLOSURE COMMITMENT of AMT Schmid GmbH & Co. KG

AMT Schmid GmbH & Co.KG (in the following referred as client) develops and produces customer-specific drive solutions with the main focus on battery-powered applications.

In the course of this, business partners (in the following referred as contractor) are contacted for example to receive quotations for components.

The related conversations, messages and documents, in particular

- technical drawings and other technical documents. As well as materials, goods, samples, trials, equipment, devices, technical processes and other technical knowledge;
- all unpublished or not yet published industrial property rights and other legal positions, in particular manuscripts, texts, technical explanations, photographs, films, videos, recordings, software, sound recordings and similar rights and objects;
- all calculations communicated by the contractor are subject to strict non-disclosure.

The commitment includes that the client and the contractor keep the mutually communicated information and documents strictly confidential and take all necessary actions to prevent them becoming accessible to third parties. The commitment to non-disclosure also applies to employees, sub-suppliers, licensees or customers who gain access in any form to the confidential information.

The non-disclosure commitment applies regardless of whether information has been or will be made accessible orally, written or in the form of samples, trials or products.

In case of a violation of the non-disclosure commitment the client reserves the right to claim for compensation.